AKRON, Ohio -- Akron is putting some bite behind an 18-year-old pit bull law.

Monday is the deadline for all pit bull owners to register their dogs, and beginning Tuesday, dog wardens will be out looking for violators.

All pit bulls must now wear fluorescent green collars, be confined to a house or enclosed area with a concrete floor, and be muzzled while in public.

Pit bull owners must also show proof of $50,000 in liability insurance.
